FAQs

Location: AUSTRALIA, POINT COOK, MELBOURNE

Date posted: May 2010

Further information: Point Cook Performing Arts was established 4 years ago. The owner is now looking to move back to the UK. The school is currently being run by one teacher for 14 hours a week (3 short mornings and 3 evenings) and has just over 100 pupils aged between 2 and 13 years. There is huge scope for expansion and the current owner is looking for someone to take the school to the next level introducing new dance styles and increasing the age group to include seniors and adults. The school currently offers RAD ballet, ATOD tap and jazz and has a thriving pre-school attendance. The premises are a rented local dance studio at an hourly rate which offers a sprung floor; wall barres and mirrors, a waiting room, a small kitchen and use of a large car park. The only other user is a belly dancing school with classes only on Wednesdays.

Location: CANADA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, WHISTLER

Date posted: June 2010

Further information: Established studio in operation for the last six years in Whistler, BC for sale. The school operates out of a leased 2-studio location in Whistler and also provides classes in nearby Pemberton at their Community Centre. The school is currently the only dance studio in the area and has a student base of 150 in Whistler and 50 in Pemberton. Classes are run throughout September to June. There are also 3-4 weeks of summer school classes in the summer months. There are currently hip hop, jazz, tap, contemporary and RAD ballet teachers on the faculty. The current owner is a RAD Registered Teacher and the community of Whistler would really like to see a RAD teacher continue with the students. There are approximately 50 classes per week with over 100 of the students taking ballet. Approximately half of the ballet students take exams.
